HOW ORCHARD DECEIVED HIS WIFE AS TO HIS WHEREABOUTS BY NOTES

Prosecution Is Slowly Connecting Pettibone with Chief Witness for the State

BOISE, June 18.—The prosecution in the Steunenberg murder trial today offered one of its most important pieces of evidence against William D. Haywood when Harry Orchard for redirect examination, it introduced and secured the admission of four letters tending to show that Haywood, during the fall of 1905, when Orchard swears he was engaged in various crimes for the federation leaders, had participated in a plan to deceive Mrs. Orchard the second, of Cripple Creek as to the whereabouts of her husband.

Over a variety of protests from the defense Orchard was allowed to testify that early in the summer of 1905 Haywood told him that Mrs. Orchard was writing Pinkerton for information as to Orchard's whereabouts.

Falsely Dated Letters

Orchard swore that he proposed that he should write his wife a series of letters that were to be falsely dated and delivered to Mrs. Orchard by agents of the federation.

He said that he first wrote two letters which he, dated at San Francisco and had them delivered through Paddy Mullaney, who represented the federation at Cripple Creek. Orchard identified the two letters, and overruling all objections of the defense, Judge Wood admitted them.

Next Orchard swore that he wrote a third letter purporting to come from Nome, Alaska, and that under the general arrangement that he had made with the federation officials, Marion Moore carried the letter to Nome, where he went as organizer of the federation and posted it. This letter bearing the date of Nome, August 5, 1905, was produced, identified and admitted in evidence.

What He Wrote

Orchard then identified a letter which Haywood wrote to Mrs. Orchard and that too, was admitted in evidence and handed to the jury. It was as follows:

"Denver, Nov. 18, 1905.

"Mrs. H. Orchard.

"Dear Madam and Sister. I have not heard a word since I saw you The last information I got was from Alaska. I think Fairfield was the name of the place I see that awful conditions prevail among the law and order element.

"Yours very truly,

"WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD."

The three letters written by Orchard were commonplace and contained practically nothing bearing on the case of Orchard's testimony except references to the arrangement which Orchard says he made with the federation officials for the care of his wife while he was absent.

Pinkertons Not in It

The defense attacked the letters and Orchard's story about them when it got a chance to cross-examine the witness, but Orchard held to the story he told about them. The witness successively denied that he had made an arrangement for the delivery of the letters to Pinkerton agents, that the letters had made their appearance since he left the stand last week or that he had invented the story because his wife had Haywood's letter in her possession. He swore positively that Haywood had agreed to write the Alaska letter and that Pettibone and Moyer knew of the arrangement.

It was a day of correspondence and documentary evidence. Besides the four San Francisco-Alaska letters, the state secured the admission of a certified copy of the unsigned letter which Orchard got at Caldwell paid and which Orchard swears was in the handwriting of Pettibone.

The Pettibone Letter.

The letter was as follows:

"December 20.

"Friend Tom— Your letter received. That was sent to Jack December 21 for you. He should send it so that yo ought to have it by this time. Will not write any more this time. Write me as soon as yo get to your new field."

The letter was postmarked at Denver on December 30, the day that Steunenberg was killed, and it is claimed by the state that "Jack" mentioned was Simpkins and that the word "that" referred to $100 which Orchard swore he asked Simpkins to secure for him when he was leaving Caldwell.

The state developed its contention that, as tending to show a conspiracy and knowledge of the Steunenberg crime, Orchard was, without any request from him, furnished with counsel within a few days after his arrest.

A Significant Dispatch.

It further showed that Orchard after his arrest sent a communication from Caldwell jail and then produced and secured the admission of the original of the following telegram:

"Receiver's number, Phone, Time, filed 7:30 p. m., 9 Paid, charge Robertson Miller and Rosenfelt, Spokane, Washn., Jan 3, 1906.

"To T. Hogan, care Sheriff, Caldwell, Idaho. 'Attorney Fred Miller will start for Caldwell in the morning —M.— 59 Hyde Block."

The defense examined Orchard on this subject and largely devoted itself to showing that the Western Federation of Miners always provided counsel for its members wherever and whenever they got into trouble.

To combat the theory that Orchard killed Steunenberg in revenge for his loss of a valuable interest in the Hercules mine, the state on redirect obtained from Orchad a declaration that he sold his interest in the Hercules in 1897, two years before the strike and troops came.

Sold His Share Outright.

The defense attempted to modify this by getting the witness to admit that he had not sold his interest in the Hercules, but had pledged it, and could have taken it back any time up to his flight from North Idaho, before the oncoming troops, but Orchard adhered to the statement that he had sold outright.

There was a long contest over an unsuccessful effort by the state to show that the confession of Steve Adams had been voluntary. It maintained that Adams had once discussed the matter freely with Attorneys Hawley and Borah but that was about as far as it got, the court sustaining a series of objections from the defense. At the opening of the morning session the defense asked Orchard a series of impeaching questions. They all dealt with conversations in which it was alleged Orchard recited his personal grudge against Frank Steunenberg and vowed that he would kill him if he hanged for it. Orchard denied every query both specifically and generally.

The Miners' Magazine.

Ed Boyce, once president of the Western Federation of Miners, and now one of the owners of the rich Hercules mine, came after Orchard and was still on the stand when the court closed for the day. He was called to indentify the Miners' Magazine as the official organ of the federation, and to pave the way for the use as evidence of a great number of articles from the magazine. The defense was given the articles for examination tonight and the row over their admission will come first thing tomorrow morning.

Another Driver Threatens to Run Down Reporter Because of Articles

Burroughs Edsall, who has offices in the Clay Peters building, was made the target for jibes and criticism by angry chauffeurs in the municipal court yesterday afternoon after Andrew Murray, driver of Mr. Congdon's car, had been fined $20 for fast driving.

Murray disputed the veracity of the complainant, Edsall, and the testimony of two ladies, and when the judge had retired Murray stated before three councilmen that he would run over every pedestrian in the street if further action was taken against him. Murray's statement were followed by other threats from Roland, driver of car No. 50. Roland told a Journal reporter that he would run him down the first chance he had, because the numbers of some of the cars have been reported in this paper as exceeding the speed limit.

Edsall was roughly insulted after the trial by a companion of the punished driver, who said: "The only difference between you and the owner of an automobile is the price." This hoodlum remark almost started a riot, but City Attorney King intervened, and stopped the argument.

MAYOR BREAKS LAW: WARNED BY POLICE

Kirman's Auto Lamps Not Lighted

While crossing the bridge at midnight, or an hour or two previous, a man of medium height, wearing a broadbrimmed Alpine hat, was halted by a policeman, who sported No. 7 on his shield. The man was driving an automobile and the machine's lamps were like unto those of the five foolish virgins.

The burly policeman, said: "Young man, I ought to pull you, but I will give you one more chance. Light your lamps in accordance with ordinance No. 4-11-44, passed by their honorables, the city council, and signed by his honor, the mayor."

The driver of the machine apologized eloquently, stating that he had purchased his carbides on a "buyer 30" and the market had become depressed.

With a cautionary farewell the policeman permitted the young man to drive slowly on until he could procure a supply of illuminant.

Just beyond the Rubicon another guardian of the peace wearing shield No. 10, stepped into the middle of the mayor and city councilmen's highway and flashed a book of rules on the man whose light had failed.

"According to section 7, come 11, of the mayor's instructions, it is my duty to take you to a barred room where you will be confronted by the inscription on the wall, 'Plead guilty and all will be well, argue with the court and be sent to prison.' I will, however, be lenient. Remove your candle from under the bushel an depart in peace."

Officer No. 10, as well as Officer No. 7 were somewhat surprised when a Journal representative who witnessed both holdups, informed them that the guilty man they had allowed to escape was no other than HIS HONOR, MAYOR KIRMAN.

Sparbur and Etchart Wedded

Two pretty weddings were celebrated last night, the first when Charles G. Sparbur and Mrs. Dora Kingsbury of Madeline were married by Rev. Leslie Burwell, and the second when John Etchart of Golconda, with large mining interests, wedded Miss Grace Bidart of Reno. The second marriage was celebrated at the Catholic rectory by Rev. Father Tubman.

At the Sparbur ceremony Dr. H. T. Mentz of this city and Miss Eva W. Sparbur, a sister of the bridegroom, stood up with the couple. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mrs. Frandsen, 442 Fourth street. Only a few intimate frends and relatives were present.

The Etchart service was supplemented by an elegant supper at the Commercial hotel. Mr. Etchart is the brother of George Etchart, proprietor of the Commercial. P. Indart was best man and Miss Marian Indart, relatives of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmand. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon in a tour of Southern California with a short stay in Los Angeles.

TWO JOHNSONS ARE IN WATCH TROUBLE

L. A. Johnson, who is employed at the Oberon gambling house, was the complainant against L. C. Johnson yesterday, and the district attorney issued papers charging the latter Johnson with larceny.

L. A. Johnson says he caught L. C. Johnson when the latter had his hand in the plaintiff's pocket. The hand was pulled out, with a $25 watch stuck in the palm. Patrolman Tolley was passing the Oberon at the time of the alleged theft, and he arrested L. C. Johnson.

L. C. Johnson is repining in the city prison, and he is wondering how his hand happened to be where L. A. Johnson says it was found. Also he wonders how the watch happened to be sticking to his palm when caught. The matter will be explained to Justice of the Peace Bell.

THE METALLODE IS A WONDERFUL INVENTION

At the request of a score of people, business, professional and scientific men, a demonstration was made yesterday at 409 North Virginia street of the Metallode, an invention by L. D Stoner of this city.

Many of those present were extremely dubious as to the outcome of the test, feeling that it would be impossible to determine by means of an electrical device the presence of iron, copper, silver or gold within a radius of some forty feet. Doubts, however, were thoroughly dispelled.

The instrument, simple in construction, was placed in position. A ten dollar gold piece, placed twelve inches underground, was located by the "observer" as soo nas the latter came into the field of "vision." This was announced through a telephone receiver, which transmitted no sound until the exact location of the coin was determined by the instrument, when there was an angry buzz.

All manner of tests were made, with coins as well as with ores of different sorts. In each instance the device recorded the breaking of the current by the intervention of the metal.

There was no possibility of faking, even if the owners of the device had desired to do so, and they are such well known and highly respected people that faking is fartherest from their intention.

Several Doubting Thomases were blindfolded or turned their backs to the field of the observer and invariably they correctly announced when the metal was carried before the field of the device. A further demonstration will be given in a few days in a mine near this city. Meanwhile the invention is on display at room 15 of the Washoe County Bank building.

TWO BABES NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH FROM HEAVY MISSILE

NARROW was the escape of two sleeping infants at an early hour yesterday morning, when a missile hurled by dynamite crashed through the window of their room.

The accident, or incident, occurred at seven o'clock and was the result of using too much giant powder to blast a stump from the grounds at Judge Mack's residence on the south side.

A piece of the stump, weighing several pounds, was hurled tarough a window in Mayor Kirman's residence, where H. P. Gifford and family are stopping for a few days.

No actual damage occurred except some broken glass and a few seconds of anxiety endured by the parents until they realized that their offspring were safe and that the first gun of the Nipponese attack had not been fired.

WHO INTRODUCED THE GAMING LICENSE BILL?

Politicians throughout the state, especially in Goldfield, have a new subject for discussion. He is the introducer of the bill that turns over the money procured from gambling licenses in incorporated towns to the municipal government.

One set in Goldfield, much to the chagrin of the other, calls Assemblyman Tighe the father of the beneficial measure; and the opposite set gives the credit to Assemblyman Folsom of Reno.

But students of the political game in this city disagree with both selections, and quote the bill itself as authority on which it is stated that the measure was introduced by Senator Wilson, drawn up by Senators Boyd of Reno and Pyne of Goldfield and introduced at their request.

Senate bill No. 72 it was. Wilson had it referred to the fish and game committee through an error, but even then it passed and was defeated by the farmers in the assembly. Assemblyman Duberg thought the bill would divert too much revenue from the counties to the benefit of the incorporated towns. He led the initial opposition to it.

Then Assemblyman Huskey introduced his bill—not the one Tighe's friends maintain Tighe drew—to give 20 per cent of the revenue to the county, 10 per cent to the state and 70 per cent to the towns. When the attention of Senators Boyd and Pyne was called to this measure they did not aprove of it. Then Assemblyman Folsom moved for and procured a reconsideration of the Boyd-Pyne bill. Senator Duberg and his followers were induced to vote for it, and the towns won.

NAT GOODWIN ONCE MORE CHARMS ALL

Greeted by Big Audience at Hippodrome

"It's the same old Nat Goodwin," said many who seen the comedian in former days, while those who saw him first in "A Gilded Fool" at the Hippodrome theatre last evening saw an actor who for over twenty years has held a place on the American stage with an enviable reputation.

The Hippodrome had a good house last evening at its formal opening. The evening was ideal, the attraction could not have been better and on every side those who attended seemed to be satisfied with "A Gilded Fool" and the fact that Reno is to have a theatre with first class attractions for the coming season.

Probably over half of the audience in the Hippodrome yesterday evening had seen Nat Goodwin some time, although perhaps not with the same company or in the same play. "Some men are born funny"—that's Goodwin. Although not as young and spry he is still good for many a laugh.

The plot of the play deals with a spendthrift who is fast going through an easily acquired fortune when he falls in love with the daughter of a banker who is ruined by a scheming partner. He starts to brace up and go into business when he is enticed by the scheming partner to put his money into the banking firm. He is warned that the firm is bankrupt before he signs the partnership papers, but after he has already advanced $400,000. Instead of backing out he enters the firm and beats the schemer at his own game, thereby winning his wished for love, etc. The plot works out well, affording some comical situations, although the laughs when listening to a piece played by Goodwin come from between the lines.

Mr. Goodwin was given very good support by the company. Miss Edna Goodrich gives promise of being an actress of ability and shows much talent for her experience. She is attractive and fair to look upon, but she does not use her voice with sufficient energy. Her lines lack force. William Beach as the scheming banker brought to the wall, was fine. He had good presence and did some excellent work in acting. Suzette Jackson as the soubrette has a winning manner and carried out her part well. All of the cast, in fact, were good.

Tonight Nat Goodwin will give his last performance of this season, presenting "The Genius" at the Hippodrome. This original creation of America's renowned comedian is one of his best pieces and will no doubt attract a good house.

The time for the closing of the contest has been extended from June 20 to 25 in order that the people of Reno may have a chance to send a winner to the carnival.

The Board Is All Right

THE Board of school trustees showed a commendable spirit of progress in deciding to make the Ralston-street schoolhouse an eight-room building, thus affording accommodation for the higher grades of the grammar classes

The growth of the city is in plain sight on every hand and the increase of the child population is the strongest kind of testimony that Reno is already a city of homes where men come to live permanently and bring their families up [illegible] such we must provide and now is the time to do it while we have the money in sight. The eight-room schoolhouse is needed right now. It will be required all the more [illegible] within a year and the need will be even greater [illegible] two years more

Such prompt action on the part of the board shows that the growing population's educational wants are not being looked after by back numbers but by men who are strictly up-to-date and who are progressive men in a progressive community. The board of education is all right

———o———

The Gazette Is Right

IN THE Journal yesterday we quoted an editorial article from the Gazette about the shacks in Reno. We are in sympathy with every line of our contemporary's writing upon the subject. The Gazette struck the nail on the head particularly when it said "If we find the ordinances defective or unsatisfactory let's have new ones that will cover the ground"

That is just it. We have found the ordinances unsatisfactory because they are not easily understood. They were drawn in the proper spirit but in an endeavor to be clear and plain legal language was not adopted and the result is that they cannot be construed as exactly as is required by laws that are to be effective. Let us have new ordinances then by all means and let them be strong and forceful so that no one can evade them

In the meantime the notion that three councilmen can get together and over-ride the municipal ordinances and the charter without any notice to the public or to their fellow members of the council is so delightfully naive and rustic that one is carried back to the days of the country cross-roads where the bucolic statesmen met and settled the affairs of the nation out of hand

Public Lands a State Asset

AT THE public land convention in Denver we are informed by the dispatches Secretary of the Interior Garfield made the assertion that the public lands were not an asset of any locality but belonged to the people of the entire nation.

That is true, but it is not true the way the easterners [illegible] which they are situated for such lands must pay their proportion of the taxes else the state and county is deprived of a revenue that is necessary and right

In the state of Nevada for example there are thousands of square miles of government and railroad land. The railroad settlers do not expect to escape taxation nor do they evade the assessor. When the railroad land is sold to the purchaser it becomes part of the assessed valuation of the county and the state. Not so with the public land. It does not go upon the assessment rolls for years. In the meantime the settler on the railroad land is paying for the protection and government of his neighbor on government land

What the people of the west want the federal government to understand is just this fact. The public lands have been protected at the expense of the counties and the state all these years with the understanding that ultimately they would be settled and pay their share. They ARE a local asset

The Future of This State

DID YOU notice that paragraph yesterday under the heading of News of the State in which it was announced that grapes melons and peaches home-grown at Las Vegas in this state in which was once marked on the geographies as the great Nevada desert, were for sale there

If you did not you should have done so for that little item means more to Nevada than almost anything else that could be said for the commonwealth. It shows that the resources of this state are not half understood by her citizens. The time is coming when the man who calls Nevada or any part of the state a desert will be regarded as an idiot or a humorist. There are many parts of what was once the arid parts of this country that are now productive with a fecundity that astonishes the resident of the east and the old world. The soil is new and when water is brought upon it it will produce anything. And the water is being placed upon the soil rapidly too

Speaking of deserts in 187[illegible] the town of Fresno was a watering trough for teamsters in the San Joaquin desert. It was the center of a sandy region that looked to be worthless. In time water was carried from the distant Kings river to the county around the town and today Fresno is the only district in the United States where raisins can be grown in commercial quantities. The country once regarded as a desert is one of the garden spots of the earth

That is what will happen here as sure as fate. It will be only a few years too before the so-called "desert" of this state will be settled by thousands of people who will be glad to hear of what will then be known far and wide as the fertile state of Nevada

ABOUT TOWN

Judge Pike is not ordinarily given to poetic thought much less expression. Thoughts that he thinks are as a general rule not all poetic in their trend and are not easily set to poetic measure and besides the judge is a very busy man. There are times however especially at this time of the year when the flowers are in bloom the full-leaved trees nodding and whispering with the soft airs [illegible] the cool murmur of the river and the mellow flush of the early summer sun accompanied by the soft whiz of the lawn mower when the judge [illegible] the call of that responsive poetical thrill bursts into words of rhyme

It must not be supposed that he does this without something more to start a train of poetical thought than the whispering trees or droning mower for such is not the case. The judge is a man of action therefore it takes action to induce a strong feeling and its poetical expression

If the reader is curious and would like to hear the judge recite he should not go and ask him for an example. That would not be policy neither would it bring results. The best way is to get Attorney Moore by the arm when he is on his way to the court house and saunter out there with him. If the judge is disengaged the sight of Attorney Moore will bring poetry

The judge will look up when he sees the tall attorney and say

"We buried him darkly at dead of night the sod with our bayonets turning

Now let's see how does that go? By the misty moonbeams sombre light—not a shot was fired not a funeral dirge o'er the grave where our hero we buried"

"Sir John Moore that is a beautiful poem. I wish I could remember it all

Whether or not the fact appeals to the victim of this poetical indulgence that it is rather a gruesome subject to call up every time he is seen by the judicial eye there is no means of discovering but he at least may take comfort from the thought that he will always be seen from the bench without the necessity of addressing the court

THE LUXURY OF ONE AGE BECOMES A NECESSITY IN THE NEXT

The comfort of cooking and heating with gas is no longer a luxury--it is a necessity. The kitchen with soot, smoke, ashes and dirt to work in is a thing of the past. Its low cost of maintenance, cleanliness, safeness and great convenience make a gas range a necessity in every home.

CONSIDER THESE FACTS

DO YOU CARE TO CARRY FUEL AND ASHES?
IS IT PLEASANT TO BUILD THE FIRES?
DO YOU LIKE THE TASK OF SPLITTING KINDLING WOOD?
DO YOU THINK IT IS COMFORT TO HAVE YOUR KITCHEN BEGRIMED WITH SOOT, COAL DUST, AND ASHES?
IS IT PLEASANT TO WORK IN AN ATMOSPHERE CROWDED WITH FUMES AND SMOKE?

WOULD YOU ENDANGER YOUR LIFE AND PROPERTY BY USING GASOLINE?
DOES YOUR COAL BILL LOOK TOO BIG?

YOU CAN COOK A FOOD REQUIRING A LOW HEAT AND ONE REQUIRING A GREATER HEAT ON THE SAME RANGE WHEN YOU USE GAS.

YAZELLE WIRED TO JOIN RENO

Clever Performer of San Francisco Procured for Locals by Telegraph

CARSON CITY AFTER HIM TOO

Red Fisher Leaves to Play with Capitals During Lull of Interest Here

The president of the Reno Baseball Club got to hustling last night when he telegraphed a ticket to Wally Yazelle of San Francisco. Yazelle is a third baseman and pitcher. Carson City was after Yazelle and when Norcross heard of it he immediately wired transportation to [illegible] the Carson outfit.

Red Fisher, the clever left fielder of the Reno baseball team, left here yesterday for Carson City, where he has been signed with the Capitals. Fisher was given a job in the state building. This is the fourth loss that Reno has suffered because the people here have not subscribed liberally to the club fund. Manager Conway stated yesterday that it will be impossible to keep a nine here if some financial support is not given by the residents.

Only three fans attended the meeting scheduled for yesterday afternoon when a manager was to have been appointed and means taken for procuring additional funds. The attitude of the business men here has discouraged the promoters of the club.

Arrangements for the game with Carson City Saturday and Sunday here are going ahead notwithstanding the backwardness of the people of Reno. With a strengthened team the Capitals will bring [illegible]

PORTLAND, June 18.—Portland continued her winning streak today by shutting out Oakland. Only one visitor got beyond first base and he was caught in attempting to double steal. Califf pitched beautiful ball and was supported in dashing style, especially by Schimpff at short. Devereaux did the star fielding stunt for the Oakland side, nabbing a grounder that was nearly a hit [illegible] only hits off Califf [illegible] the third inning and had to leave the game. Score:

Oakland	0	1	[illegible]

SIDE STEPPING THE SIDEWALKS

Opinions Differ as to Best Manner of Handling the Proposition

CITY COUNCIL IS UNDECIDED

Many Property Owners Object to Municipality in Role of Contractors

It is no longer a question of whether or not a cement sidewalk is to be built on the north side of Railroad avenue, but the manner and method of its construction.

The chief [illegible] of Monday evening was the discussion of ways and means to [illegible] the end. It seemed to be the wish of the council that this body let a contract for the construction of the entire walk and assess the cost against the amount of frontage.

When this suggestion was made there was [illegible] by a number of property owners [illegible] the Sparks man of whom [illegible] Mr. O'Connor. He held that the only proper method of procedure was to have the plan line and grade of the sidewalk established, [illegible] each property owner arrange for the construction of his own walk. Failure to do which [illegible] result in the city doing the work and assessing the [illegible]. This is the situation [illegible] the sidewalk question remains.

LOCOMOTIVE'S BEAUTY IS ONLY SKIN DEEP

Scenes and Sounds in the Southern Pacific Hospital at Sparks for Ill and Injured Engines

If the Southern Pacific Company pays its employes in the Sparks shops according to the amount of noise made by each, it is a certainty that some of them will shortly become bloated street railway stock holders. The din there is unspeakable. It [illegible] to be unbearable. The spacemaster [illegible] of the Sparks department of the [illegible] intellectual [illegible] conversation yesterday [illegible] were lost in the pandemonic crash and clang.

Busy indeed are the railway shops at the present time. It is evident that the [illegible] proportions of the shop buildings will soon prove inadequate and enlarging men will be in order.

Construction is being carried on [illegible] greater amount [illegible] it presents is repairing rolling stock. Nearly a dozen locomotives [illegible] stripped [illegible] including [illegible] cabs and other impediments in process of overhauling.

To one accustomed to the appearance of the locomotive in running [illegible] with burnished steel and brass, the sight of an engine stripped to its skeleton is an interesting one. Beneath the [illegible] which glistens after its [illegible] the massive [illegible] is a very slovenly and [illegible] appearance but extreme [illegible] in conserving heat. [illegible] the body of the [illegible] the flaming [illegible] on the [illegible] that [illegible] delicate mechanism [illegible] the locomotive loses all its lines of grace and [illegible] shorn and [illegible] Simpson—a giant in strength it is [illegible] but devoid of any appearance of fleetness.

Within and without a swarm of pygmies are boring and hammering, drilling and milling the helpless [illegible] which soon will go forth to annihilate distance and bear the burden of the world.

DIGGING WEEDS

Extensive Plans are Completed for Enlarging Capacity of the Yards

NOW THRONGED WITH TRAFFIC

Between three and five miles of new sidetrack will be laid at once, the understanding being that this is but the beginning of an extensive campaign of improvement and growth.

GIVE YOUR FEET A TREAT

Put them in a pair of R-T-Z Pneumatic Sole Shoes—and you'll feel good all over.

For you can't be comfortable—you can't do good work if your feet trouble you.

But you'll feel as free as a boy in summer-time if your feet are comfortably clad in R-T-Z Shoes.

Instead of a hard rigid sole, like the average shoe, the R-T-Z is fitted with the famous Pneumatic Sole.

This is made of a special antiseptic felted combination of wool and cotton—springy and elastic. It never rolls, forms ridges or "bunches up" and always presents a smooth surface for the tender bottom of the foot to tread on.

The R-T-Z is the "Comfort Shoe."

You almost believe you are walking on air, when you have a pair on.

MONEY FOR A LIBRARY NEEDED AT UNIVERSITY

Tomes Hidden in Darkness Says Stubbs

Rearrangement of the library of the University of Nevada in the basement of Morrill Hall is to be made this summer The book stacks have become so high that light is shut off from the windows and the regents are considering the proposed building of a $75 000 structure to replace the present inadequate quarters

President Joseph Edward Stubbs is working to get a fire proof building for the library He recommends in nearly every report to the regents that means should be provided for the protection of the volumes He says that if a fire should destroy some of the books they could not be replaced

Scholarships are wanted by the president of the university He urges that friends of the university consider the founding of scholarships

There are many unusually competent men and women in the state says President Stubbs whose subsequent life would be immensely more useful to their generation by means of the discipline of a university course but whose financial resources are inadequate to obtain it for them This university is straining every effort to provide for such cases but its ability to do so is far less than the worthy demands made upon it

Although there was little change in the prices bid and asked yesterday from the day previous, still the tendency was for a rise and no one but a dreamer would believe could consider the market in any other light but that of [illegible] advancement.

Low prices are [illegible] depressing to the broker, speculator of expert [illegible] is a stagnant condition with [illegible] regard to the prices quoted, because it is quite evident to all that when the [illegible] previous money invested will mean rather profit or [illegible] a stagnant market almost invariably includes a slump.

[illegible] as shown by the following list of [illegible] quite active, the number of transactions recorded on the San Francisco exchange being many more than the day before, and [illegible] for some time past, while there are no startling price changes everyone feels satisfied because there is growing activity and his spells opportunity.

ANOTHER RICH STRIKE IN RAMSEY COMSTOCK

Crosscut from Two Hundred and Sixty Foot Level Taps Rich Ore Thirty Feet from Hanging Wall

RAMSEY, Nev., June 18.—What promises to be one of the most sensational strikes yet made in this section is being developed from the strike made yesterday in the Ramsey-Comstock.

So far no information of the actual values of the strike are obtainable but that the ore encountered runs high in free gold without copper.

The strike was made on the 260 foot level where a crosscut has been run to pick up the ledge which was encountered some days ago and at the time of the strike the ledge matter which is estimated to be about seventy feet in thickness, had been about half penetrated.

As values are not anticipated before reaching a point within a few feet of the hanging wall the strike in the midst of the ledge matter was a surprise and leaves the natural inference that the matter which will be encountered near the hanging wall will prove to be very much richer.

STATE CAMPS BOOMING AGAIN

Without discussing the probable or possible causes which led to the recent general depression in the mining industry throughout the state and therefore to all other industries, it is generally believed because there is abundant reason for the belief that the period of depression is fast coming to the much-desired end.

From every point throughout the state there comes news of energetic and successful mining operations, the investment of outside capital, the installing of new machinery and the increased shipment of ore.

That these reports are well founded needs no better or more conclusive proof than the reports from the various stock exchanges which daily show increasing sales from New York to San Francisco and a strong upward tendency.

A few of the more important of the news items from different camps may be given to show that the season of [illegible] is at an end.

SEARCHLIGHT

From Searchlight comes the news of a sensational strike of high grade ore in the Duplex mine, the richness of which compares with the famous Mohawk.

Last week a body of ore was broken into which startled the miners by its [illegible]. A pile of this ore on the floor of the drift where it was picked down now shows the free gold as it lies without picking it up. Its value is estimated at anywhere from 10,000 to [illegible] per ton.

The vein at the point where the discovery was made is six feet wide and the picture [illegible] found in a six-inch [illegible] streak which gives promise of permanency.

FROM ELY

At Ely there are between six and eight hundred men at work in the mines and the new Guggenheim smelter which will be the largest copper reduction plant in the world, is being rushed to completion by a thousand workmen. This enormous plant, whose capacity, it is said, will be 10,000 tons daily, will be ready for work within the year and will be completed within two [illegible].

Many plans have been advanced and the new ones are cropping up daily for the transmission of power to the Ely mines from the distant water courses. The latest of these is the promotion of Colorado men who promise to bring the needed power from the Snake river in Idaho and it is stated that they already have a corps of engineers in the field laying out the route for the proposed power line.

The water shortage for this camp is to be obviated by the Giroux Consolidated Copper Company which has a corps of engineers in the field laying out the route for a pipe line from Steptoe Valley and locating the sites for the pumping stations. The line will be twelve miles in length.

MANHATTAN

The stamp mill which was first intended by the company erecting it to be a custom mill will, it seems, be a private institution owing to the fact that several of the older companies, now having large bodies of ore in sight, have taken such large interests in the project.

The fact that this change has taken place is regarded as unfortunate in certain ways for the camp in general, as it will naturally withdraw the hope [of] many less highly developed properties, although without doubt the fact that the mill will have a sixty ton capacity and that it will be able to work $1 or [illegible] to a profit will have a very beneficial effect on the camp in general and its demonstration must eventually lead to a custom mill.

RHYOLITE

From Rhyolite comes the encouraging report that the strike reported last week in the winze of the Tramps Consolidated is even better than at first reported and is the best yet encountered in the Denver.

For the first time the green stain of the Original Bullfrog is found and gives promise of becoming permanent. The vein has widened to nearly five feet in the south end of the winze which is now 140 feet below the fourth level.

GOLD MOUNTAIN

The new twenty-stamp mill at Gold Mountain is now complete and ready for business and this fact together with the assurance that the branch line from the Tonopah and Goldfield road will be complete and ready for traffic this fall has greatly encouraged those who have spent their money and energy in the development of adjacent property.

The investment of much Goldfield money at this place during the past few months has had a very invigorating effect and much development work is in progress.

WONDER ENTERPRISE

Wonder is to have an electric power plant which will cost, it is estimated, in the neighborhood of $75,000.

The source of the power is to be some waterfalls across the Dixie valley about twelve miles distant.

Among the mining operations in progress in the live camp of the desert is the work of development now being so vigorously pushed by the Spider-Wasp company on its property of that name. Three shifts of men are now at work and the vertical shaft, which is planned to drive to a depth of 500 feet, is now down fifty feet.

The Sure Horse property in the eastern part of the district is the theme of much conversation owing to the fact of its discovery of bonanza ore last week.

SOUTHERN CAMPS

The news from the southern camps cannot be given in detail in so small a space but it goes without saying that work of all kinds is progressing in both Tonopah and Goldfield with all the vigor and energy compatible with good business judgment.

NON-PRODUCERS WEEDED OUT

Following on its notice to eliminate from its list all companies whose stock were dead and on whose property no development work has been done, Chairman W. H. More of the stock listing committee of the San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board has announced the dropping of the following stocks:

Tonopah—Ray & O'Brien, New York Tonopah Consolidated, Timber Hill, Colehan, Lucky Tom, Tonopah Union, United Tonopah, Bulls Consolidated, Tonopah Gold Reef, Belmont Extension, Tonopah Home Consolidated, Tonopah Monitor, Gold Reef Consolidated, Iowa.

Goldfield — Oakland, Southwestern Mines, Diamond Exploitation, Lucky Boys, Nevada Southern Mines, Aurora Gold Hill, Gold Dust, Goldfield Gold Reed, Juno, Sherman, Pan Yan, Colorado Goldfield, Lucky Star, McMahon Gold Crater, Burlington.

Bullfrog—Equitable Gold Mountain Goldfield.

Nevada—Rothwell, Dudley.

Comstock — Ophir-Brunswick Consolidated, Brunswick-Savage, Brunswick Chollar, Brunswick-Potosi.

The above list comprises fourteen in the Tonopah district, eighteen in the Goldfield district, two in the Bullfrogs, four Comstock and two in the outside districts.

The chief charge against these holdings was that they had done no assessment work and had failed to comply with most of the mining laws.

The committee will continue its work till the standing of every company is thoroughly canvassed.

SOME OLD ONES ARE COMING UP

ELKO, Nev., June 17.—The resumption of mining operations, the big finds made at Aura have caused an increase in activity of all camps in the northern part of Elko county. The latest to awaken is Cornucopia. Thirty years ago this camp was a heavy dividend payer. The ore was about 15 per cent gold and the balance silver. The average value of ore produced from the Panther[?] according to the bullion tax records of this county was $134.87 per ton. From these several small lots of high grade ore have been shipped returning as high as $23,000.00 per ton of which $600.00 was in gold. In the four years before the fire destroyed the camp, tax was paid upon a return of $1,169,865.22 of ore produced.

At the time the great and fabulous strikes of gold ore that was almost the pure quill were being made at Tuscarora back in the early 80's, Cornucopia was stampeded, the entire population leaving for Tuscarora and many of them only taking what they could conveniently carry, expecting to return at some more convenient time for their household goods. Fire soon destroyed the mill and a goodly portion of the town which has been uninhabited until this spring. The advent of many prospectors, the securing by New York men of the control of the patented claims has caused the camp to take on new life.

The storms of the past two weeks which were of unprecedented duration and severity for this section of the country have proven of great hardship to the prospector. Freighting is at a complete standstill. The automobile line is not attempting to make any trips to Tuscarora or Aura. The mail stage manages to get through but the drivers say that the road is worse than at any time this spring.

DEATH VALLEY EXPLOSIVES

The largest powder works in the world are to be established at the southern extremity of Death valley. This fact was recently announced at an informal gathering of desert millionaires in the St. Francis Hotel at San Francisco. Effort will be made to interest the United States government in the project and it is thought that active operations will begin as soon as the present peaceful minded president of the United States finishes his present term of office and gets matters arranged to suit him for the following term.

The idea of building the huge powder works in Death valley has long been considered a feasible one on account of the vast deposits of nitre which are to be found in this vicinity. It is estimated by experts that the nitre beds around the southern part of Death valley will make powder and dynamite enough to blow up the world. These deposits cover thousands of acres and are quite easy of access.

The only obstacle which has been in the way of such an arrangement is the great heat of the country in that vicinity during the summer. It was thought that such heat would make the manufacture of explosives during the summer time very dangerous and it would be impossible to keep men. As the expense of building a plant would be too great to allow of its being operated only during the cool weather the project has hitherto been abandoned.

With characteristic energy, however, this objection was overruled by the desert millionaires who lately took up the proposition. To provide against the danger of crystallization and imminent destruction during the warm weather these men have decided to run a huge ammonia plant in connection with the factory buildings and in this way make a cold storage plant of each department of the great enterprise. This will minimize the danger of explosion from the great heat of the valley and is also expected to reduce expenses of labor, as desert men will be glad of the opportunity to work in such cool atmosphere for almost nothing.—Greenwater Miner.

PUBLIC LANDS WERE MEANT FOR THE PEOPLE

What the Denver Convention Is Doing

DENVER, June 18.—Called together for discussion of public land questions with a view to formulating a policy and urging legislation in accordance therewith, nearly 1,000 representative citizens representing all the trans-Mississippi states met in convention at the Broadway theatre in this city today. From Washington comes James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior, Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry department; F. H. Newell, head of the reclamation service, and P. A. Ballinger, commissioner of the general land office, representing President Roosevelt and prepared to give all possible information as to the policy of the administration regarding the control and regulation of the public lands.

The badge worn by the Colorado delegates was designed to furnish the keynote to the convention.

It is inscribed as follows:

Public lands were intended for home builders. We oppose interference by government bureaus under autocratic rules and regulations."

United States Senator Thomas H Carter of Montana was elected temporary chairman and made the following statement today before the convention assembled regarding the position of President Roosevelt on the public land questions:

"The president is irrevocably opposed, it seems, to the continuance of the free and unregulated range, but is not absolutely committed to any particular scheme for the accomplishment of this purpose. This is what he informed me. The policy as I am informed by him is the regulation of the public ranges of the west by the government.

"The president added that if it was found there were any harsh rules in force in the administration of the policies, these harsh rules, not the policies, would be modified."

Governor Henry A. Buchtel of Colorado, called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock. United States Senator Henry M. Telle of Colorado nominated Senator Thomas S. Carter of Montana for temporary chairman, and he was unanimously chosen.

George S. Walker of Cheyenne, secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association, was made temporary secretary.

Senator Carter, in his address as temporary chairman, went over the history of the development of the west. He expressed the opinion that the day of the great open range is past. He said among the questions to come before the convention was whether the lands of the United States shall be made a source of revenue by requiring permits for the use of the public range or whether the leasing systme shall prevail. He said that the federal government as a land owner had just as strong a right as private individuals and no stronger.

TALENTED SINGER IS TO GIVE A CONCERT IN THIS CITY

Madame Freed-Griselda, a soprano of remarkable ability and world-wide reputation, who came to Reno from Goldfield a few days since, has completed arrangements for giving a concert in Reno, which will occur at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, June 25th, given under the patronage of the Optimista Society of the Episcopal church. Those in this city who are fond of music will welcome the announcement as it is seldom that a singer of the ability and reputation of Madame Griselda appears here.

Madame Griselda has brought from Europe an enviable record, having won praise from most of the known musical critics from across the Atlantic, and nearer home she has received very flattering press notices from her concerts in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and other large American cities. While in Goldfield she gave two concerts to crowded houses with great success. She certainly deserves a good audience in Reno.

The concert will include a varied program which will please all and show the wonderful voice of Madame Griselda, which is a soprano with a contralto range.

HOSTILE ARMY WOULD SOON TAKE NEW YORK

All Required Is to Go Behind the Forts

WASHINGTON, June 18.—General Murray, chief of artillery, has returned from New York, where he observed the joint operations of the regular coast artillery men at the New York state militia in repelling the sham naval attack upon the defence of New York.

Having planned these joint drills with the special purpose of ensuring the existence of a sufficient force of trained volunteers to make good the great deficiency in numbers of the regular coast artillery, General Murray is extremely gratified with the exhibiton of interest and enthusiasm shown by the New York National Guardsmen in the successful work of last week. He now projects an extension of the plans for joint drills, based upon the fact, developed by the experiences of last week, that the real weakness of New York's dfense lies in the danger of an attack by a land force in the rear of the fortifications. Therefore it is proposed to divide the territory lying behind the forts into sections, each one covered by a force of militiamen.

Thus, in the case of Fort Wadsworth, the zone in the rear for a distance of about ten miles will be divided into one mile sections and to each section would be assigned one company of guardsmen, whose business it would be to make study of the topography of the country so thorough that the militia men would know intuitively and in the darkest night just where lay every ridge and depression and natural obstacle, so that they could fight to the best advantage in repelling an attack.

As this sort of expert knowledge can not be acquired in a few days, it is General Murray's plan to have certain organizations of the National Guard permanently assigned, year by year, to the same defenseive zone so that they may become thoroughly familar with its strong points and weakness. Of course, this can only be done by the hearty co-operation of officers of the National Guard in the various states.
